Take the Moppets Back To a Home on the Range

By Count Marco

A woman, quite an intelligent woman, too, said to me, "you have from time to time attacked the Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girl movements. I agree with your objectives. As a girl I found them terribly boring and dull."

"It is ridiculous to crusade against the groups, but there is merit in crusading against their programs."

She came up with the greatest idea for the advancement of education since I suggested banning the PTA.

Said she, "You say mothers should keep their daughters home and teach them to be homemakers instead of sending them off to groups to learn leathercraft and how to cook over a campfire."

"Actually, it wouldn't be so awful if they did learn leathercraft and campfire cooking, but usually their instructors don't know these arts so the little things end up making cords for whistles and learning how to spatter-paint."

She said many women won't volunteer for leadership because they are not equipped to teach the crafts.

But, she added, some of these women are accomplished homemakers and could, instead, teach valuable subjects such as cooking, how to make a bed really well, how to iron, how to garden and how to wax furniture.

If only all mothers could do this, what a delightful world full of surprises this would be. But it isn't so. I go along with her theory.

Scholarship Awarded Local Nursing Student

Joan Elizabeth Donald, 23, 1028 Crenshaw Blvd., is one of 12 young women who will receive Nurses Scholarships from the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. July 12.

Miss Donald, a student at California Hospital in Los Angeles, was selected by her instructors for the award. Basis of the selection was academic standing, need, and enthusiasm for nursing as a career.
